

Making Connections

There are different kinds of connections:

- Story-to-Self- Does it remind me of something that has happened to me?
- Story-to-Story- Does it remind me of another story I have read?
- Story-to-World- Does it remind me of something that has happened in the news or in history?

Write about something that happens in the story.

Write about your connection with that event in the story. What does it remind you of?

Write about your connection with that event in the story. What does it remind you of?
